Alignment with Guiding Principles*

AWS Foundation and the Community Foundation support the Guiding Principles for this fund, as listed below. Please check the box next to each Guiding Principle that you believe this request fits.
For video

Guiding Principles:

- Individuals with Disabilities deserve a choice driven life (self-determination). Preferences, opinions, priorities, and accommodations are best defined by the individual rather than for the individual.

- Inclusion and Integration are better than segregation when possible. The more inclusive and integrated an environment, activity, or program, the more it will benefit everyone.

- Opportunities are presented with a focus on encouraging potential rather than identification of limitations.

- Social settings that include family and friends are preferred. Age related peer groups and potential for new friends is ideal.

- ADA standards are the law and the minimum. Exceeding through the principles of Universal Design is desirable.

- Opportunities that enhance and support education and employment potential will contribute to greater independence for the individual.

- No one has all the answers. Collaboration increases the potential for greater opportunities.

For videos of examples that feature community organizations doing work that supports these Guiding Principles, please visit the AWS Foundation's website here: AWS Foundation - Who We Are
